KTGY GROUP, INC.

"When deciding where to spend our time, there are a lot of real estate networking options, but ULI is the one that gives us the chance to make meaningful professional connections, but more importantly gives us a chance to get smarter. The conversations fostered by ULI are consistently thought provoking and germane to what we do every day. It's nice for our people to be involved with an organization where the quality of the discussion is at the heart of the mission."
